Audiology: Services relating to impaired hearing are offered at Goole Hospital, providing a much more convenient access point to have a hearing aid fitted or repaired. Patients will be seen by a qualified and experienced audiologist who understands that everyone has their preferences when it comes to hearing aids. Staff are on hand to help people make an informed decision about the types of hearing aids that may be suited to their requirements, assisting them in finding the right one for them.

Goole Urgent Treatment Centre

Urgent Treatment Centres (UTCs) offer high-quality urgent medical help for patients when it is not a life or limb-threatening emergency. City Health Partnership provides this service at Goole.

We can see and treat adults and children who have minor injuries or illnesses.

There is a wide range of expert clinicians working in the service, from nurses to physiotherapists and paramedics to doctors, among many others, who can diagnose and deal with many of the most common problems people go to A&E for.

The UTC can help with:

- broken bones and sprains
- injuries, cuts and bruises
- minor burns and scalds
- coughs, colds and breathing problems
- sore throats and earache
- vomiting and diarrhoea
- skin infections and rashes
- high temperature (fever) in children and adults
- mental health problems
- minor eye complaints

We have access to X-rays to assess for fractures (broken bones) in areas of the body such as the shoulder, elbow, arm, hand and fingers, knee, lower leg, ankle, and foot.

You do not need an appointment, just walk in, the centre is open between 7 am and 8 pm every day, including Bank Holidays.

Please note:

The information has been collated from a wide range of health and care providers and is accurate at the time of print. As always, when relying on third-party information, details may change due to individual staff or service issues.

How to contact us

The people who look after your health will do whatever they can to make sure you are treated appropriately and on time. Your compliments are always appreciated and help us to share good practices. However, we realise that sometimes things do not go as expected.

If you are unhappy with the treatment or service you have received from NHS services, you have the right to make a complaint, have it looked into and receive a response. You can raise your concerns immediately by speaking with the staff involved, who will attempt to resolve your complaint informally. Alternatively, you can contact one of the organisation's patient relations services or Healthwatch East Riding of Yorkshire, the independent voice for the people of the East Riding:
